Lohagad Fort Murder: Father Denies Wig Motive, Claims Families Knew

The father of Ketan Agarwal, allegedly murdered at Lohagad Fort, has refuted the police's claim of a hair wig being the motive, stating both families were aware of the situation. The accused couple admit to conspiracy but differ on who committed the fatal push.

The father of Ketan Agarwal, who was allegedly murdered by being pushed from Lohagad Fort, has challenged the police's assertion that a hair wig was the motive behind the crime. He stated that the families of both Ketan Agarwal and the accused, Siya Goyal, were fully aware of the circumstances. While the police have claimed that the motive was related to Ketan's hair wig, his father has refuted this, indicating that the families had prior knowledge. Both Siya Goyal and Chetan Chaudhary have reportedly admitted to their involvement in the conspiracy to murder Ketan Agarwal. However, the accused couple have reportedly blamed each other for the act of pushing Ketan Agarwal off the fort. Meanwhile, both families are reportedly demanding strict legal action and severe punishment for those responsible.
